When receiving a complaint or appeal from a client/client representative/stakeholder, employees should implement the following practices:

- Ask if they would like a copy of the C&A brochure
- Ask if they would like a copy of this policy and procedure;
- Advise that their service provision will be maintained (where relevant);
- Listen carefully to the details provided;
- Receive the information impartially, and without offering personal opinion;
- Ask whether the person would like a support person or advocate to be present;
- Ask if they would like to nominate a key person to communicate with them throughout then process
- Ask if they would like details of external resolution agencies, such as ACNC, Fair Trading or tenants' advocacy groups
- Record the details of the C&A and ask what outcome is preferred;
- Advise that the C&A will be registered, reviewed and actioned.

Documentation

- Within 2 working days provide an acknowledgement of receipt by the same media (written, SMS, email etc.) the C&A was received.
- Document the C&A as accurately as possible;
- C&A received are to be summarised in monthly reports at all levels (i.e. Coordinator to Manager; Manager to CEO).

Responsibilities

- If there is an allegation of gross misconduct, unethical or illegal activity, the documented C&A must be forwarded to the CEO;
- If the matter can be immediately resolved or actioned to the satisfaction of the client/client representative/stakeholder – then do it, and record actions on the form;
- If the matter requires greater attention, the form is to be referred to the Manager for follow up – if resolved then record actions on the form and submit. If not resolved escalate to the CEO
- All C&A will be recorded in the C&A Register, which is held by the CEO and maintained in a secure location;

- Completed forms are to be forwarded to the CEO.

- Progress reports (written or verbal) are to be provided to the client/client representative/stakeholder and nominated key person on a regular basis during the course of the complaints process. Records of correspondence must be maintained.
- A final report is to be provided to the client/client representative/stakeholder that outlines the outcome of the complaint.

Types of outcome include:

- identified improvement (e.g. policy gap, systemic fault)

- an apology
- disciplinary action, up to and including dismissal.

Appeals

We will inform people who make complaints to or about us about any internal or external review options available to them (including any relevant Ombudsman or oversight regulatory bodies).

Internal Appeals

If you feel that the procedure set out has not been followed and/or that the outcome was unfair, you can appeal to the CEO. If the complaint concerned the CEO then you can appeal directly to the Chair of the Board. In either case the CEO or the Chair will investigate the appeal and make a determination as to the suitability of the process and the outcomes. The CEO or Chair may implement alternative outcomes if they believe his is appropriate. Appeals can be sent directly to the CEO or Administration Coordinator at PO Box 401, Grafton, NSW, 2460 or by phoning 02 6643 4844.

If a staff member is unhappy with the outcomes of the process they are entitled to lodge a grievance, in accordance with our Staff Grievance Policy.

Guide for staff in providing information to clients about our complaints and appeals process

The following guide may assist you in explaining this policy to clients. Please also ensure that you provide clients with a copy of our Complaints brochure.

COMPLAINTS

- If you are dissatisfied with something we have done, you can make a complaint to a member of our team. You can do this however you wish, such as by writing a letter, emailing, texting or phoning.
- We will record your complaint and pass it on to the appropriate Manager.
- Within 2 working days, we will let you know that we have received your complaint, are investigating it and when we expect to let you know the outcome.
- The matter will be investigated. This will involve checking what actually happened and may involve you and other people, including staff, being contacted to find out more about what happened.
- The Manager will determine what actions we need to take as a result of the complaint. This could involve 'no action', or action such as changing a system or providing our staff with more training.

- We will let you know the outcome and how you can appeal if you are still dissatisfied.
- You have the right to have external resolution at any point and to be provided with contact details for ANC and external resolution entities
